Parents offer $1,000 reward for safe return

Police hunt missing area girl

The parents of a Belleville girl who has been missing for the past 18 days have offered a $1,000 reward for the safe return of their daughter.

Mrs. Esther Smith of Belleville said that she last saw her 16-year-old daughter, Brenda Sherry, on Jan. 28 and fears, after intensive searches by police and state law enforcement agencies, that "something dreadful has happened to her."

Brenda was wearing a pink jacket with green and white trim and blue jeans when she left her home in Belleville. She is described as being about 5 feet, 4 inches, 110-pounds, with light brown hair and hazel eyes.

A ninth grade student at North Junior High School in the Van Buren School-District, Brenda is considered to be popular with the students and is a "B"-plus student. Born Feb. 2, 1968, she recently celebrated her 16th birthday. "Brenda has never run away from home before," Mrs. Smith said. "We have been patiently waiting and are eager for news about her. She is very popular and was a cheerleader for our Cougars Little League football team.

"We're praying for her safe return," she added.

Belleville and Van Buren Police said they have been investigating the disappearance of the teen, but, "right now we don't have anything substantial on her."

Brenda has been seen in the Homer area in the company of another girlfriend, according to police.

Asked if she could be visiting any relatives out of state, Mrs. Smith said that there is a close member of the family in Florida, "but, if Brenda was there, we would have gotten news of her immediately."

Anyone who has any information about the missing girl is urged to telephone the Belleville police (699-2033) or the Van Buren police department (699-2003) or 697-0435.

To the end, young Brian remained brave

By D. M. ROCK
(Special to ANP)

To the end young Brian Morrison was brave...

And, those who knew him drew courage from him. His fight to defeat muscular dystrophy has ended.

Brian, a seven year resident of Romulus, lost his fast battle with Muscular Dystrophy last Monday night. He had fought this disease for 12 years and his story drew national attention.

Brian almost made it to his 18th birthday, which would have been on March 31.

In his short lifetime, though, he had accomplished many things.

From 1974 to 1976, Brian was the inspiration for many as the Muscular Dystrophy Poster Boy. His list of friends included celebrities like Chad Everett, Steve Owens (Lion's halfback), Charlton Heston, John Kelly (of Channel 7), Tony Orlando and Dawn, Joe Glover (T.V. 2), Jerry Lewis, Bill Kennedy, Bob Seger, Mayor Orville Hubbard of Dearborn, and Mayor William Oakley of Romulus, who were all inspired by him to do more for the campaign against M.D.

Brian had organized his own campaign as well. The Brian Morrison Fund Raisers were successful in raising over $4500.00 for Muscular Dystrophy research. Yearly, Brian's young friends wheeled him door to door to raise additional funds during the M. D. Telethon.

Brian's charisma was unbounded. His classmates at the Ottawa School in Grand Rapids had voted him "most flirtatious" as well as the treasurer on the school council. At Christmas, Brian became engaged to Christine Kasper, an aide at the Granville Home. They had made plans for a lovely summer wedding.

As Brian's last act of heroism, he had willed his eyes so that someone else might see.

The Dearborn Police Department acted as police escort for Brian's last ride on Friday, Feb. 11. A well co-ordinated plan involving police from Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Inkster, Taylor, Romulus, and Garden City made it possible for Brian's funeral procession to drive past his neighborhood on Halecreek in Romulus.

It was his fervent hope that the fight against M.D. will end only when the disease is completely eradicated.

Gremore makes his move

Ousted director seeks PCHA board post

By GENE MIERZEJEWSKI
ANP Staff Writer

When the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) Board of Directors conducts its annual election on Feb. 24, one of the candidates for an at-large seat will be a former PCHA executive director who was fired for alleged improprieties in 1965.

Kenneth W. Gremore of Grosse Ile announced last Thursday that he will bid to become one of the board's seven at-large members as the first step in a campaign to take over as chairman of the panel.

The 47-member board is the decision-making body of the PCHA, which owns and operates Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, Beyer Memorial in Ypsilanti, Outer Drive in Lincoln Park, Seaway in Trenton and Heritage in Taylor.

Before being ousted as the PCHA's executive director on Oct. 14, 1965, Gremore had spent 15 years in the position. He also was the secretary of PCHA board and served as the hospital authority's registered lobbyist in Lansing from 1952 until his firing.

"I'm not going to sit here and see the organization I built go down the damned drain," Gremore said.

"All you ever hear from the PCHA these days is spend, spend, spend. These hospitals are for the people. It's unconscionable that they spend this money so wildly."

Gremore also contended that the PCHA board should not have allowed some $32 million to build up in its funded depreciation account, which he termed a "surplus."

Ironically, it was Gremore's spending habits that brought him notoriety in May 1965, when it was revealed that he had used $186,420 in PCHA funds for lobbying purposes from 1955 through 1964.

A special investigating committee — headed by Donald J. Pizzimenti, who has since served as PCHA chairman for the last 17 years — recommended that Gremore be discharged, and the board as a whole voted 27-11 to proceed with the firing.

In February 1966 State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley charged Gremore with the misuse of public funds, betrayal of the public trust, disregard of the public interest and neglect of public duty.

The former executive director maintained that he never did anything illegal, and his case was never brought to trial. He later successfully brought suit against the PCHA for money owed him on the unexpired portion of his contract, but he claims he never received any of the $35,000 awarded to him by a Wayne County Circuit Court jury in 1969.

City employees start food drive for needy

"We 'Can' Share because We Care," is the slogan for a group of Romulus City Hall employees who are taking direct action in helping provide food for the hungry.

Bettye Martin, Nancy McClain, Elvera "Tootie" Fischer of the Finance Department and Josephine Hagen of the City Clerk's Office have formed a Food Committee that initiated a successful Christmas project of collecting canned goods that were distributed through a free meal program held at the Community Church located at 6200 Fourth Street in Romulus.

Meals are served Monday thru Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The project has now been expanded to a community wide effort to help provide hot meals to the city's hungry.

The Treasurer's Office helped kick the food drive off by contributing $100 to a grocery fund at Bilmar's Market where perishables can be purchased on a need basis by the Church group.

Treasurer's Office employees, Renee Gravenstreter, LaJuan Gray, Jean Braithwaite, Frances Zilka and Deputy Treasurer Betsey Brown donated $50.00 which was matched by Beverly McAnally, City Treasurer, making a department donation of $100.00 toward the project.

City employees and the general public are being asked to contribute on an ongoing basis by bringing canned goods to collection locations at City Hall, the D.P.W. and the Police Department. If anyone wishes to make a monetary contribution, they may do so by contacting one of the above listed Committee Members.

Congressional chitchat

Congressman William Ford (D-Taylor) managed to get out of Washington D.C. just before the snow storm hit last Friday and made it to Canton Township to dedicate a new postal facility. Prior to the ribbon-cutting ceremonies, Ford (at left) and Sumpter Township Supervisor Jim Reeves had a wide range of topics to discuss. One major item was a post office in Sumpter. Ford didn't commit himself or the U.S. government on that subject. The chairman of the House' Postal Committee is presently has approval to construct a facility in Romulus.

On grant funds

Sumpter to hold public hearings

The Sumpter Township Department of Housing and Urban Development will hold a public meeting on Thursday to receive input from residents for the township's 1983-84 Community Development Block Grant funds. The hearing will be conducted at 5 p.m. at the Sumpter Township Hall, 23480 Sumpter Road.

Residents are urged to attend and discuss what eligible projects are top priority for the township. The township board will receive recommendations and suggestions from the citizens, but it will have the final say on where the funds will be earmarked, under federal guidelines.

Card game

The Astral Rebekah Lodge of Belleville will hold a card party at 7 p.m., Sat., Feb. 19 at the City Hall facility located at 6 Main Street. A lunch will be served after the card playing and there also will be a door prize. There is a $2 per person admission charge, and the public is invited to attend.

Battle is brewing over closing Wayne County General Hospital

Wayne County Executive William Lucas' threat to possibly close Wayne County General Hospital has been met by sudden and strong opposition from Inkster city officials and other elected representatives. Lucas said the hospital, which employs 25 percent of the county's workers, will be shut down unless its $13-million-a-year operating deficit can be eliminated. A large number of Inkster residents are employed at the hospital. Lucas made his threat to close

Wayne County General Hospital during his 35-minute State of the County address Monday afternoon in Detroit. Many elected officials who sat in on the message strongly oppose any plans to close the hospital. Two county commissioners — Kay Beard of Inkster and Milton Mack of Wayne — were outspoken in their criticism of that possibility. Mrs. Beard, in fact, along with Mayor William Daniels of Inkster, hosted a public hearing yesterday morning to give Inkster residents an opportunity to voice their concern about the possible closing of the facility. Inkster Councilman Jim Collieran, aided by City Clerk Betty Miller, drafted a resolution late Monday afternoon after hearing of Lucas' plans to possibly close the county hospital. Collieran introduced the resolution at Monday night's Inkster City Council meeting — imploring Lucas to "find the means to maintain" the hospital for the citizens of Wayne County. Collieran's resolution was supported by Councilman Willie Johnson and was unanimously adopted. Councilman Johnson, who has worked at Wayne County General Hospital, spoke of the vital need to keep the facility open. "When the President of the United States visits Michigan, Wayne County General Hospital is kept on alert in case of emergency," Johnson said at Monday night's council meeting. "I know because I've been part of plans in case the President may have to be taken to the hospital (See WCGH Page 4)

Huron clerk issues 'position paper' on summer tax collection

To clear the air and dispel any confusion about the township's role in collecting summer taxes for the Huron School District, Huron Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey has issued the following statement:

"There seems to be some misunderstanding among the voters in Huron Township on the subject of summer tax collection. Last fall the township had two advisory questions on the ballot. These two advisory questions were placed on the ballot because the Michigan Townships Association was opposed to the summer tax collection and thought that if they had the outcome of these advisory questions to put before the Legislature, they would listen to the people of the State of Michigan and NOT pass the summer tax collection.

communities did NOT want to pay summer tax collections. They (the State Legislature) passed the law regardless of what township voters said. At the time, I thought how wrong and thoughtless they were.

"However, I have since had a change of heart (or mind) on the subject after listening to many school officials discuss the matter. If our school district can save approximately $100,000 by having half of their tax collection at the opening of school and not having to borrow money — or more importantly — not have to pay the interest on the money that they borrow to start school with, I see no good reason to oppose them on summer tax collection. Does it really matter when we pay the bill? This first year may present somewhat of a hardship on those who have been out of work but senior citizens and farmers are entitled to an exemption and may choose to pay ALL of their taxes in the winter just as they have done in the past. "I am truly sorry if you, the voters, were misled by the Advisory Questions on the ballot when you voted. These matters were not binding upon the school or the township not the state Legislature.

"By the time that you are reading this, I am sure that most of the people of our township will be aware that the State of Michigan has withheld the state aid to the schools and local units of governments for this quarter with no definite date for payment offered. This will definitely cause a cash flow problem for local units and school districts, I hope it eases some of the problem for the state, at least temporarily. I really believe that this is the cause of many school districts opting for the summer tax collection this year. When anticipated revenues aren't received, it causes pay-less pay days and numerous other problems for smaller districts and township like ours. We have also been informed that the Wayne County Intermediate School District is going to have a summer tax collection this year of half of their total assessment.

"Although this may create a problem for you as an individual to pay half of your school taxes in July and the other half in December, it may make it somewhat easier for some people to come up with half now and half later. Either way, it's a new way of life in Huron Twp. Many cities and township have collected summer taxes for schools in other districts in Michigan in the past few years and the reaction the first time around was much the same as it has been here — no one is happy to pay taxes at any time of any year, but they are a necessary part of life in this great country of ours when you consider the alternatives!"

Masked gunmen rob Radio Shack of $1,500

Three masked gunmen held up a store manager of the Radio Shack in Van Buren Township last week and escaped with approximately $1,500 in cash and goods.

The men entered the store shortly before 11 a.m. and quickly slipped on ski masks. They approached the store manager and forced him at gun point to hand over the cash from the till. While one of the gunman stayed with the register, the others rifled the shelves of stereo and radio equipment.

There were no patrons in the store at the time of the robbery.

"They timed it when no one was in the building," said Van Buren Police Chief Leonard Keller. "The men worked quickly and they made their getaway in what a witness said was a blue vehicle."

Belleville police arrest car theft suspect

In an unrelated case, Van Buren police said they have arrested three teen-age youths, one a former employee, of breaking into a local restaurant. Police will seek warrants for charging the suspects for breaking and entering a business establishment.

Police said approximately $600 in meat was stolen from the Burger Chef restaurant after burglars broke into the building earlier this month.

Police Chief Keller said that the trail led to a former employee of the restaurant. He said the youths, all 18, live in Ypsilanti Township, Wayne and Inkster. The meat has been recovered, Keller added.

Patrolman Barney Czajkowski was credited with making the arrests after an investigation.

In the meantime, Belleville police have arrested and handed over to Westland police a 22-year-old man wanted for questioning in an armed robbery and stolen vehicle case.

Belleville police officers Vern Taylor and Carl Arnett were on patrol when they spotted a vehicle that reportedly was stolen from Westland. They pursued the driver and stopped him. After questioning the suspect, the two officers placed him under arrest.

"Alertness on the part of our officers," said Belleville Police Chief Willard Dockter, "led to the arrest of this suspect. They did an excellent job."

Gremore seeks PCHA job

Gremore rapped the current board for not returning the alleged surplus funds to the 24 PCHA communities, for buying too much hospital equipment, for continuing to levy a property tax to fund the organization's operations and for failing to fight proposed bed reductions at Seaway and Outer Drive hospitals.

"If I am successful in my effort to become chairman, I will dig into the past records of expenditures and open them to the public," Gremore said. "I got fired the last time I did that, but I'll do it again."

A number of PCHA directors privately expressed serious doubts over the possibility of Gremore winning an at-large seat, let alone the chairmanship.

Several pointed out that Gremore is a resident of Grosse Ile, which is not a member of the PCHA.

Gremore, however, said that an attorney general's opinion states that anyone who lives within the PCHA service area can serve on the board. He said he is eligible because Grosse Ile residents are served by the PCHA's downriver facilities.

He added that, while he was the authority's executive director, one board member continued to serve after moving from Flat Rock, a PCHA city, to Dexter, a non-participating community.

Although Gremore contended that he had heard reports that Piz-zimenti was going to step down as chairman in favor of Vice-Chairman Patrick Norton, both men denied the claim.

"I don't know where he got that information," said Pizzimenti. "I know my name has been submitted for another term as a member at-large, and I will accept the nomination (for the chairmanship), if it is made."

Norton called Gremore's account of Pizzimenti relinquishing his post "ludicrous and ridiculous."

"Don Pizzimenti is probably the best public official I've ever met," Norton said. "I could never fill that man's shoes."

"He has given a good portion of his life during the last 20 years, at no pay, to making the PCHA one of the best public hospital systems in the state."

Norton added that he does not believe Gremore can win a seat on the board.

"There isn't a ghost of a chance of him getting elected to anything," Norton said. "If he does somehow get elected, it will be time for me to move on."

Among the communities belonging to the PCHA are the cities of Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Belleville and Romulus, plus Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron townships.

Teachers cancel trip, parents petition board

"We feel it's of utmost importance that a commitment made to the children of this community be kept. Every effort will be made to see that it will be."

Romulus school board president Dan Bales said it forcefully, as he asked School Supt. Dr. William Bedell, Principal Richard Goode, and all interested parents to set up a meeting at Wick School to find alternative solutions to the cancellation of the sixth grade camping trip.

The five-day trip to Camp Nahelu has been a tradition since Wick School opened. Plans call for it to take place this year beginning May 26. However, these plans are in jeopardy as sixth grade students received a note last week telling their parents that the trip had been cancelled.

Sixth grade parents and many tearful students were at the Board meeting Monday night with signs and petitions signed by more than 300 Romulus residents asking that the school board consider hiring substitute teachers to organize and participate in the camping trip.

Mrs. Jan Conrad spoke of "the hurt, disappointment and disillusionment" suffered by the students at the abrupt cancellation of the trip by sixth grade teachers.

The camping trip is a learning experience with regular classes utilizing the campground setting and evening fun and games such as gong shows, and contests.

It had been planned and executed as part of the outdoor education program under the direction of Mrs. Chris Powers for the past several years. Money for camp is earned by the students who start in September of their sixth grade. More than $3,000 has been raised so far this year.

Preparing for the trip has taken many man-hours each year of extra time donated by the teachers. While at the camp they are with the students 24 hours a day with no extra compensation.

The students were told that the teachers do not have that extra time available as they were forced to take part time jobs after their salaries were cut by 20 percent, abruptly, last November.

Bales said he realized that not enough appreciation had been expressed to the teachers for their previous efforts and the parents themselves were complimentary of past efforts.

Irene Jernigan and Jan Conrad are coordinating the parents group.

After an emotion-filled discussion, Bales told the audience, "we are distressed as parents and board members that the commitment is unable to be kept and hope through cooperative efforts that an alternative solution can be found."

Parents will be receiving notification of the meeting to be held with principal Goode and Dr. Bedell.

Baccalaureate well and alive at BHS

By SUSAN PROHASKA

June 5th is six months away. But to the Belleville High School Baccalaureate Association time is short.

Baccalaureate is a program designed to acknowledge the individual accomplishments of senior students at BHS prior to graduation.

Baccalaureate is held on a more personal level than that of commencements.

The program was discontinued due to a lack of interest in the 70's. It was brought back in 1980 thanks to the efforts of Milford Prince and the generosity of local businessmen and interested area residents. This year the association is headed by Mr. Ralph Nodwell, a local area businessman.

Interested students from Belleville High School, alumni, parents and residents in the Belleville area are on committees to assist him.

The advertising committee, the Belleville High School Ambassadors, will begin to collect contributions for the Baccalaureate service from local area residents and businessmen.

If you would like to contribute to this unique program, contact "The Ambassadors" at Belleville High School.

Driver charged with manslaughter

Jeannette Koziarski, 37, of Plymouth Township has been charged with manslaughter in the Jan. 27 traffic death of Lawrence Konkol, 33, of Canton.

Arraignment on the count has been set for 10:30 a.m. Feb. 24 at 35th District Court in Plymouth.

At her preliminary hearing Tuesday, Koziarski stood mute, but a not guilty plea was entered for her by the court. She was released on $15,000 personal bond.

Canton police sought the manslaughter charge after blood samples taken from Koziarski and tested by the State Police Crime Laboratory in Lansing indicated that her blood alcohol level was .19 percent 2½ hours after the accident that took Konkol's life.

According to police, the accident occurred at 6:44 a.m. on Ford Road near Lilley when Koziarski's east-bound Lincoln Continental crossed the center line and smashed head-on into Konkol's Datsun.

Konkol was taken to the Oakwood Hospital Canton Center, where he was pronounced dead at 7:30 a.m. Koziarski was transported to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

While the Plymouth Township woman was being treated at the hospital, police obtained a search warrant to get a sample of her blood in order to test its alcohol content.

Taking a bite out of crime

To make students aware of crime prevention methods, the Huron Township Police Department held a McGruff "Take a bite out of Crime" poster contest at Riverside and Miller elementary schools. The contest involved kindergarten through fifth grade students who submitted a total of 300 entries. A McGruff dog was offered as a first place prize in each grade while second through fifth place winners received a T-

Police warn seniors about con artist

Two separate robbery attempts have promoted a strong warning to area residents from the Wayne Police Department.

According to Lt. G. William Whitworth, a trio of men in their late 20s or early 30s have been attempting to perpetrate a confidence-type scheme on elderly area residents. Whitworth noted that the hoax had been attempted twice within the last week in Wayne and that reports of the same type of incidents had been reported in both Inkster and Westland recently.

According to victims' accounts of the incidents, two men verbally identifying themselves as workers from water or electric companies entered the potential victims' homes and announced that, due to an overpayment, the couples were entitled to a $60 refund. The two men then offered the couples a cash rebate if they could produce $40 in change from a $100 bill which they brandished. The men are dressed in workman's clothes, Whitworth noted.

While the refund was being offered by one of the suspected thieves, the other would ask one of the residents to accompany him on a tour of the home to inspect the water pipes or wiring. Separating the residents is a key to the success of the scheme, Whitworth explained, as while one is busy getting the refund, the other is distracted.

While the alleged "inspector" then distracts both the victims, his accomplice steals the couple's remaining cash which he located while the $40 change was being retrieved, Whitworth said.

The "con men" are accompanied by a third suspect who remains in a late-model dark blue or black pickup truck outside the home, the officer added, and the truck reportedly has no distinguishing marks or lettering.

Whitworth urged all senior citizens in the area to be particularly aware of the hoax and to demand identification from anyone approaching them claiming to be a representative of any utility company.

"Do not take any chances," he cautioned. "If you have any doubts or if proper identification cannot be presented, contact the Wayne Police at 721-1414 immediately."

The recent attempts were unsuccessful, Whitworth explained, when the elderly victims did not have the proper change for the $100 bill.

Recreation director

We just couldn't support our department with the money generated from our programs at this point.

"However, I did offer a solution whereby special events such as bingo and the Family Day program could generate the necessary monies to keep going," Rairick said. "The officials didn't buy it."

Asked why, Rairick replied: "They just couldn't risk it. If they lost money and couldn't come up with it in other areas they would face deficit — and the state law requires that they have a balanced budget."

Rairick believes that the popular Family Day, initiated by former township board member and treasurer, Tom Welty, should be expanded from a one-day affair to a weekend program and that passes for the Van Buren Park should be increased.

"These, I believe, will enable the township to generate monies to help finance the department," Rairick said.

Does the township need a full-time recreation department head?

"Yes, I sincerely believe so There's just too much to be done, and they'll find now that it's going to be difficult to run a quality program without one."

Rairick added: "I hope this thing doesn't come off as a 'sour grapes' sort of thing. I really enjoyed working with the people. We've had our disagreements, but I think we all had in our minds the same goal: making the township better for all of the residents."

Will WCGH be closed?

Johnson said doctors from University of Michigan Hospital often work at WCGH. "Also, health care costs and service are very good at the hospital," he said.

Councilman Patrick O'Neil commended Collieran and Mrs. Miller for getting the resolution ready on such short notice.

County Commissioner Milt Mack, who is a former member of Wayne City Council and an attorney, believes the 15-member Board of Commissioners will fight Lucas on any possible attempt to close the hospital.

"He's going to have a tough battle ahead of him," Mack said. "Wayne County General Hospital is vital for western Wayne County. It's going to be difficult to convince the commissioners to shut it down," Mack said.

Inkster Councilman Robert Cullen was concerned about the loss of jobs to Inkster residents as well as having the hospital closed. "A very large number of our residents work at the hospital and I think the facility is needed very much," Cullen said. "Lucas, Blanchard (newly-elected governor of Michigan) and others get big pay raises or ask for pay raises and then talk about such big budget deficits. I can't understand how people elected to office can so quickly forget the people who put them there," Cullen said, shaking his head.

Collieran's resolution was passed unanimously by city council Monday night.

Local residents serve in Salvation Army

The Salvation Army has "come to town". A committee of local people will serve as representatives of The Salvation Army in the area.

In the city of Belleville, meeting the needs of Van Buren, Sumpter, and Belleville, the service unit committee is comprised of Belleville Police Chief Willard Dockter - Chairman, Sumpter Police Chief Clinton Brown - Vice Chairman, Mr. Larabelle Treasurer, Ms. Cecil Welfare Secretary, Mr. Graban - Secretary, Reverend Schiesler, Reverend Spencer, James Richendollar, Police Chief Leonard Keller.

A Service Unit is an extension of The Salvation Army where there is not a Salvation Army Corps Commu-ity Center (church) established.

There are approximately 67,000 service units across the United States, involving over 31,000 volunteers.

Each unit is comprised of three or more members and all are volunteers who serve without remuneration. The committee members' only compensation is the pleasure they receive in helping others.

Service unit members come from all walks of life who find something in common as they serve under the dedicated leadership of The Salvation Army.

They enjoy an inner satisfaction as they attempt to brighten the lives of others. For additional information the number to call is (313) 699-2033.

Colleges hold seminars for BHS senior class

If the money was there, what college or university would you pick?

To help Belleville High students answer that question recently, a score of colleges and universities sent their representatives to the Van Buren-based high school.

During interviews, seniors learned what Eastern Michigan University, Detroit Business Institute, Kalamazoo College, University of Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne State "is all about."

College representatives informed students there is a wide variety of scholarships based on the student's academic abilities, needs, and grade point average. Most colleges also offer financial aid or grants to the students, as long as the grants were filed by January 31, 1983.

The groundwork for entering a college is given in the presentation by a representative who gives the detail, the choices colleges have to offer, cost of the tuition, requirements, and curriculum. The presentations to the students usually lasted about one hour.

After the presentation had been completed many of the students said they felt well informed about their college and making a career choice. The talks were especially beneficial to the student who is trying to seek a college of his standards. The presentations were made available to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Depending on the financial situation and status of each individual college, Belleville High school cannot determine which colleges will be able to visit the school in the second semester of the school year.

YWCA to host divorce talk, support series

Meetings for the PHOENIX Divorce Support Groups for Women, sponsored by the YWCA of Western Wayne County, will be held at various sites next week.

On Monday, Feb. 21, Sylvia Ruen from Catholic Social Services will speak on "Controlling Your Own Life."

The meeting will be held at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, 27475 Five Mile, Livonia from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Sherry Young from the Women's Resource Center, Schoolcraft College, will be the speaker when the group meets on Tuesday, Feb. 23 from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. at Southminster Presbyterian Church, 21845 Wick, Taylor. Her topic will be "Grants, Training Programs and Schooling for Women."

These groups serve as vital support systems for women who are separated, divorced or contemplating divorce. New women are welcome at any time.

For more information about the PHOENIX groups, contact YWCA Area Director, Pamela Cronenwett at 561-4110 during business hours.

'Lost Ark' thriller is featured at Belleville High

Belleville High school's Student Activity Council will host a series of fundraising movies during the next two weeks. The money from the movies will be used for various school functions, including dances.

The tickets for the movies are $1 for students who purchase them in school and $1.50 at the door.

Students will be able to see "Swampthing" on Feb. 18, and the thriller, "Raiders of the Lost Ark" is scheduled for March 4.

Be Window Wise...

INSULATE YOUR WINDOWS

Cut heat loss through your windows by 55%

Reducing drafts and cutting heat loss is like money in the bank. And 3M Magnetic Interior Rigid Insulating Windows save three ways: first, tough, vinyl moulding resists conductive heat loss better than metal. Second, the magnetic seal and gasketed moulding reduces cold drafts (and noise) from coming in. Third, tightly sealed dead air space cuts total heat loss in half.

The 3M Insulating Window converts a single-glazed window to double glazing; converts a double-glazed window into a triple-glazed window. Easy to put on and take off, it seals like a magnetic refrigerator door. Call us for a free cost estimate of professional installation.

Congratulations

Scoutmaster Robert Metivia congratulates Jim Holbrook for his successful career in scouting and reaching the coveted plateau of "Eagle Scout". Jim is a member of Scout Troop 739 of Romulus, and is one of only a handful of youngsters who are awarded the honor of "Eagle".

Jim Holbrook earns elite Eagle award

Jim Holbrook became last week what every Boy Scout dreams of becoming but only a select few reach — an Eagle Scout.

"I feel honored and happy and I would like to thank everyone — my mother and father — my scoutmaster — just everyone who has worked with me to help me become an Eagle," Jim said. An Eagle Court of Honor was held for James P. Holbrook on January 20 at Romulus City Hall.

Eagle is the highest rank award in scouting and is attained only by a small percentage of scouts.

Jim is a member of Scout Troop 739 of Romulus. He began as a cub and completed all phases of scouting, including becoming a member of the Order of the Arrow.

A dinner was held in his honor followed by an induction ceremony. The event was attended by 80 family members, friends, and dignitaries.

Special guests included Edward Mahalak, State Representative; James Stone, District Court Judge; and Barry Baumann, Romulus City Councilman.

Speakers for the occasion were Navy Lt. Commander F. Gainor and Master Chief, L. Vanorsdal.

Jim was presented letters and mementos from Ronald Reagan, President of the United States; George Bush, Vice President of the United States; William Ford, United States Congressman; Gov. William Milliken and William Faust, State Senator.

Robert Metivia, Scoutmaster of Troop 739 had the honor of pinning the Eagle.

Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Holbrook of Romulus. He is a 1982 graduate of Romulus High School where he served on student council and the varsity wrestling team. He is active in his youth group at church and holds the office of Vice-president. Among his hobbies are model railroading and playing the guitar. He is currently attending Wayne County Community College.

Jim would like to express his thanks and appreciation to each one for making this a very memorable evening. A special thanks to Dawn Seward for a lovely dinner and to Robert Vincent for photographing the entire evening events and presenting Jim with a beautiful album containing photos to commemorate this very special occasion.

Horste to chair state crime prevention post

Cathy L. Horste, of Belleville, and a member of the GFWC-Belleville Junior Study Club, has been appointed to serve as the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs Crime Prevention/Reduction Chairman.

According to Mrs. Horste, her goals for this administration will be to:

- Educate the community on the need for Victim/Witness assistance
- Educate the community regarding the extent and seriousness of domestic violence
- To work to reduce child/spouse abuse
- To assist in the organization of action-oriented crime reduction groups and programs.
- To educate the community in self-protection — especially rape prevention
- To promote better understanding between the community and the Criminal Justice system by encouraging active, volunteer participation in the system itself.

Mrs. Horste has been a Police Officer since 1976, when she was first hired by the Van Buren Township Police Department. Since that time, she has attended the Schoolcraft Community College Reserve Police Academy, the Wayne County Sheriff Police Academy, the Oakland County Sheriff Advance Police Academy, the Department of Justice Drug Enforcement Administration Narcotics Training, and the Federal (Veterans Administration) Police Training Academy.

Campbell announces new president

George E. Pranis has been elected president, treasurer, and a member of the Board of Directors of H.F. Campbell Co., a Detroit-based commercial contracting firm operating in 28 states of the U.S. and in Germany.

Announcement of Pranis' election was made by H. Fred Campbell, founder of the 54-year-old design/build organization, who continues as Chairman of its Board of Directors.

Campbell, and his wife, Gerri, reside in Belleville.

Pranis, a native of Homestead, Pa., was president of George E. Pranis, Inc. and Talantron Corp., before rejoining the Campbell firm December, 1982. He was associated with The Campbell Group from 1958 until 1966 when he resigned to enter the commercial real estate and investment business.

A graduate of Kiskiminetas Springs School (Kiski), Saltsburg, Pa., Pranis earned a B.S. Degree in civil engineering in 1946 from Pennsylvania Military College in Chester, Pa., (now Widener University). In his senior year he was Battalion Captain; several years before Cyrus Tang (who recently bought McLouth Steel) was graduated from the same college.

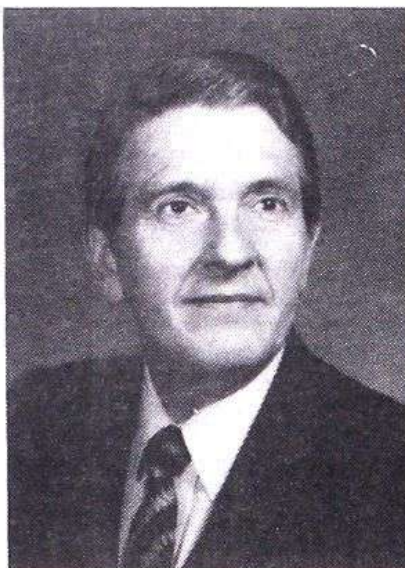

The father of five children ranging from 17 to 28 years of age, Pranis resides in West Bloomfield with his wife Alice. He is an active member of the Detroit Athletic Club and the Centaur Racquet Club.

H.F. Campbell Company started business in 1929, moving houses; the firm quickly grew, designing and building modular unit structures for small manufacturing and warehousing. Its several divisions known as The Campbell Group include construction management, design engineering, financing, and site selection, in addition to consulting and developing industrial parks.

The company currently is active in the construction of computer facilities for national and large, locally-based companies, including American Natural Resources and Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. IBM at Poughkeepsie was among the Campbell Company's earlier computer facilities construction projects.

Among the Campbell clients are Chrysler Corp., Ford Motor Co., General Motors, H.J. Heinz Co., RCA Corp., Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Borg-Warner Corp., Bendix Corp., E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. and Western Electric Co.

'Crime fighters'

You don't have to be an adult, and wear a badge, and a police uniform to fight crime and criminals. If you see something suspicious, phone your local police department. And, basically, that's what "Mr. McGruff" is all about. McGruff's message "Take a bite out of Crime" was brought to Huron recently in a form of a poster

Huron students 'take bite out of crime'

There is a saying that "no one is immune to crime". If that be so, then no one should shun their responsibility to fight crime and criminals.

To develop crime prevention awareness in students in K-12 in the Huron Community School District, the Huron Police Department recently held a McGruff "Take a Bite Out of Crime" poster contest.

Some 300 students at Miller and Riverside elementary schools responded with posters.

"It was a terrific effort put forth by the children," said Huron Township Police Chief Joseph Carney, "and there were many great posters submitted."

State Reps Mahalak, Sullivan see 'red' when Blues seek hike

State Representatives Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) and Richard F. Sullivan (D-New Boston) said this week they are elated over the refusal of an Ingham County circuit judge to allow Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan to set their own rates for non-group purchases of Medicare supplemental insurance.

The Blues had asked the court to rule against the state insurance commissioner's order of a 15% increase and $9.6 million subsidy for senior subscribers.

Mahalak and Sullivan said they have had many complaints from senior citizens, objecting to the prospect of unaffordable rates set by the Blues for the supplemental insurance.

Since the circuit court decision is expected to be appealed by the Blues, Mahalak and Sullivan expressed the hope that the State Court of Appeals will take the same position as the lower court.

"The basic issue," Mahalak said, "is whether or not the Blues can be regulated by the State of Michigan. The Blues are seeking to sidestep that regulation. This was not the intent of the Legislature when it wrote law to regulate the Blues the same as we regulate other insurance carriers in Michigan."

Sullivan added, "The supplemental insurance is an important security to countless older persons, since Medicare does not pay for all health care costs. It is equally important that the supplemental insurance be within the means of retirees with limited income.

"If the Blues were allowed to set their own rates, it appears likely that the insurance would be priced out of reach for great numbers of these senior citizens."

HEADACHES AND YOUR TEETH

So, you've had headaches for most of your adult life. You've even taken them for granted and even assumed that they are a part of your normal life. Don't feel alone. Adults go on for years and years experiencing headaches on a routine basis feeling that because they are so routine, they must be normal. Often, these headache victims have seen physicians who may have diagnosed their symptoms as being caused by stress and treat it with pain medication or tranquilizers.

Well, it's possible that your headaches may be due to an improper bite. Possibly, the place you should be for treatment is your dentist's office. These headaches are often muscle strain headaches and if the improper bite (called a malocclusion) is properly treated then the muscles of the jaw can then relax. You may be able to look forward to normal days without headaches in your future.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By John Brimble

Cold noodles are delicious, especially with oriental sauces. Toss a half pound of noodles, 1 pound cooked shrimp, and a bunch of green onions, sliced, in a sauce of sesame and peanut oils, soy sauce, grated ginger and minced garlic.

For more tender beans, cook without the acidic ingredients such as tomato, lemon juice, or vinegar. Add them at the last moment before serving.

If you're chilling gelatin pathway before adding other ingredients, stir it now and then so the sides won't "set" before the middle is ready.

Long-life fruit that will stay fresh for months will be available soon. Sugar-based substances called Prolong coats the fruit to slow the movement of oxygen and carbon dioxide across the fruit skin.

Here's a treat — mix 1 Tbs. each grated orange peel, Cointreau, and orange juice concentrate, and 1/4 cup powdered sugar, into 8 ounces of cream cheese. Let flavors blend several hours. Serve with date-nut bread or ginger snaps — or even fruit — for a treat-time snack or dessert.

Here's another treat: a delicious meal at

Double ring rite joins C. Rork, L. Montgomery

Trinity Freewill Baptist Church in Ypsilanti was the setting Dec. 18 for the afternoon wedding of Lois Faye Montgomery and Charles F. Rork, both of Belleville.

Pastor Winford French presided at the double ring rite which joined in marriage the daughter of Darrel and Garnett Montgomery and the son of Charles L. and Rosie Rork, all of Belleville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a white velvet gown designed with long sleeves, a high neckline and chapel train all banded with white ostrich feathers.

She wore a lace-bordered veil cut in mid-back length secured by a little lace headpiece and completed her outfit with a cascade arrangement of red sweetheart roses and white carnations attached to a white fur muff.

Dorothy Montgomery of Belleville was her sister's only attendant in an ivory knit pleated gown accented by a matching lace jacket. The nosegay she held was comprised of blue and white carnations.

The bridegroom asked Thomas Camp of Canton to serve as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Montgomery chose a 2-piece ivory knit suit and beige blouse. A red silk blouse accented the 2-piece ivory knit suit which the bridegroom's mother wore for the occasion. Both were honored with corsages of blue and white carnations.

A reception for 45 guests followed at the Wayne home of Bob and Kathie Michalak of Wayne, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom. Sandra Fay of Belleville, his sister, furnished the wedding cake.

The new Mrs. Rork, a 1979 graduate of Belleville High School, works as a cashier for Beck's Party Store. Her husband, a 1974 alumnus of Belleville High School, spent four years with the U.S. Coast Guard and later graduated with honors from the Medical College of Ohio with a bachelor of science degree. He is currently doing graduate work in chemistry at the University of Michigan while employed as a paramedic with an advanced life support system in Oakland County.

International Month observed at February BPW dinner meet

The February meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) was held at Faith United Methodist Church in Denton. The dinner and program both had international accents to observe International Month, the meal including dishes from recipes which originated in Poland, Germany, Greece, Italy, France, England and Mexico.

The group listened to biographies of very prominent women who have served their countries and people. Member Vira McGrane reported on Indira Nehru Gandhi who served as Prime Minister of India at four different times.

Ila Jean Hayes presented a sketch of Margaret Thatcher, the current Prime Minister of England, while Irene Christie selected several black women who have made contributions to the United States: Rosa Parks, Coretta King, Marion Anderson and Shirley Chisholm.

Golda Meir, the late Prime Minister of Israel, was chosen by Georgia Badgett for her presentation.

During the business session, members were updated on the fashion show set for March 26 which will help support the club's two scholarships. One will be awarded to a Belleville High School senior and the other to a mature woman who is furthering her education.

The 43 lap robes the members had made were on display and were to be presented to the Van Buren Nursing Center on Feb. 10.

International Weekend at Windsor, Ont. will be held Feb. 25-27. This is the time when Windsor invites its American cousins to participate in a social weekend. Also in the future is the BPW State Convention May 20-22 at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

Working women guests are welcome at the club's monthly dinner meetings. A reservation may be made by calling 483-4562.

The first meeting you attend is free; thereafter there's an initial joining fee of $3 with subsequent sessions being 50 cents per week. Those attending meet, weigh in and compare progress. Quite often there's a competition in progress for cash prizes for top losers.

In addition, a weekly aerobics class is held at 10 a.m. each Wednesday. The fee is $1. For further information, call 699-7856.

potpourri

By Lee Smith
Suburban Living Editor

So — what are you doing with yourself these winter evenings now that "Winds of War" has been swept away and packaged into future television re-runs (and what ABC hoped would be top-viewing accolades)? You did watch it, didn't you? It was probably the topic of conversation when you talked with friends throughout the week, right?

With subject matter always a prime concern for columnists, I couldn't resist the opportunity to do an armchair critique of the screen adaptation of Herman Wouk's best seller. Since this is being put together just mid-way through the slated 18 hours, I can only include my impression on less than half the mini-series, the most highly touted (and costly) TV programming ever.

First off, too much bally-hoo on any upcoming event — be it stage-play, movie, sporting contest or release of a new book — can be a detriment to the undertaking. Being constantly inundated by TV commercials, radio spots, newspaper ads and entire tabs on W-W, the prospective viewer gets pumped up into expecting an extravaganza as proven as "Gone With the Wind."

That was the case at our house as we, like our counterparts all over America, tuned in precisely at 8 p.m. on the Sunday designated — all set for three hours of prime viewing.

I'd read and thoroughly enjoyed "Winds of War" so knew the screen version could be an exciting and moving serialization. The trouble? It wasn't exciting and it didn't move! As we ho-hummed our way to 9 p.m. and network identification time that opening night, we agreed it'd been one boring hour. So we flipped the off button and settled in with our current reading. Heeding a suggestion included in a not too enthusiastic advance article on the show, we had our latest magazines and books at our elbow. If many others were as disenchanted with that first 60 minutes, we agreed, ABC was going to take a heck-uva beating on that 40 million they'd shelled out.

But — come Monday night (and only after M*A*S*H) — we decided to give W-W a second chance (mainly because we didn't want to be left out of any later discussions on the show.) The story had perked up somewhat and was a bit more interesting but still d-r-a-g-g-e-d terribly. It was so lethargic that a 20-minute phone call mid-way didn't even upset me.

It's been 11 years since I read the pre-World War II saga but "Pug" is remembered as rather a short, feisty individual in his late 40's. Robert Mitchum at 65 was a bit long in the tooth for the part which he played as woodenly as a cigar store Indian. A mediocre actress at best, forty-three-year-old Alie MacGraw (who's still doing re-runs of Jennifer from "Love Story") wasn't too convincing as the 27-year-old Natalie especially having to play opposite a too-young looking Jan-Michael Vincent whose looks certainly belie his 38 years.

Polly Bergen, too, is a contradiction of her 52 years and with her trim figure and sag-free face could pass for the mid-40 Rhoda (but what was wrong with her mouth; or was it her teeth?) Granted, my memory is fuzzy from the decade-ago reading of W-W but I don't recall Rhoda being such a bubblehead.

Then there's David Dukes (Leslie Sote) — wouldn't you just once like to see him in a jovial role? His big contribution was a constant tightening of his jaw muscles which grew as tiresome as seeing him taunted (again and again) by a bitchy Natalie.

As for Hitler, Gunter Meisner's dippy portrayal bordered on the comical with his crepey face, slight lisp and too-obviously-false smudge of a mustache. He, too, seemed a bit aged to be the 50-year-old dictator. In contrast, Ralph Bellamy at 79 was believable as the 57-year-old Roosevelt. Countless performances as FDR in "Sunrise at Campobello" no doubt abetted his role.

Originally slated for 12 hours, the series might have made a bigger impact and kept its audience awake had the powers-to-be stuck with those plans. It seems that almighty advertising dollar was too much to resist so the viewing public was subjected to six more hours of stretched out narrative and dull footage of convoys or caravans of touring cars. Shots of people leaving and entering automobiles, walking up or down staircases or corridors, and those scenes where background music filled the void were downright tiresome.

Unlike "Holocaust", a devastating emotional experience, or "Shogun", a powerful historical revelation, "Winds of War" lacked the action that should have been foremost with its subject. It was just too talkie!

The history and geography (on-location scenes) involved with making the epic, however, compensated for some of the aforementioned criticism but not for the overall dullness.

I suppose the two best adjectives to pin on "Winds of War" (which certainly wasn't all bad) would be "interesting" and "educational" — its history lesson alone keeping it from being a complete disappointment.

Unfortunately, at least for the first half (remember — I was only halfway when this was penned) it couldn't be labeled a smash. "All right" will have to do for now.

In the event you loved the 18 hours you spent away from other pastimes, I'm glad for ABC and that 40 million.

BRUSHING UP ON TOOTH LORE

SINCE I USED an expression in the above story which immediately made me wonder about its origin and since I took the time to look it up, I might just as well share the findings with you. You ARE curious about "long in the tooth", aren't you?

One source, those Morris Dictionary people, say that term, meaning "aging", originally was applied to horses because their gums recede with age. It has long been applied to humans, both male and female. Thackeray used the expression way back in 1852, so it is well established in British English.

Another reference, Brower's Dictionary, tells it this way: L. In the T. means getting on in years. Since there is no truth in horse traders, the potential buyer checks the horse's age by examining its teeth. Constant grinding of fodder causes the horse's gums to recede, whereby the teeth of old horses seem to grow long.

THE BOTTOM LINE: We see a lot of movies on TV that we wouldn't pay to see at a theater; which proves that folks don't mind being bored if the price is right.

(P.S. — See you in two weeks, "potpourri" is taking a vacation.)

Get out your calendars and circle Saturday, Feb. 26. Then plan to join in the fun at "Granny's Attic Sale" which will be sponsored by the September Days Senior Citizens.

You can also play a part in the sale if you wish since the group is looking for those too-good-to-throw-away items you have taking up space in your house. ## our opinions

Erase deficit, WCGH must remain open

In any kind of business it's bad business to lose money. Even if you're in the business of healing the ill and mending broken bones. It creates an insurmountable problem when hospitals lose money — especially one funded by a county like Wayne County, which doesn't know where its next paycheck is coming from.

And when you're a 150-year-old facility like the Wayne County General Hospital and you've become a liability to the county, one would think that the doors to the structure could be easily slammed shut. That the hospital could become a part of history.

William Lucas, the first Wayne County Executive, learned it isn't easy to end tradition. He also learned that that facility, located on the border of Westland and Inkster, has many friends.

When Lucas announced recently that the county could save $13 million by closing WCGH, he learned that he will have a fight on his hands. If he doesn't know that he owes his popularity in this area to his fight with the Wayne County Commissioners over the Sheriff's Patrols, Lucas better bring in his advisors and listen: "To touch WCGH will bring the wrath of area residents and politicians upon him faster than he can say 'William Fitzpatrick.'"

WCHG has rescued and saved the lives of thousands. These people are indebted to the doctors and to the facility — which is strategically located in Western Wayne County and minutes away from busy Metropolitan Airport.

We would advise Mr. Lucas to read a Public Information Release — or re-read it — authored by his own writers. The release stresses the importance of this medical facility to our communities — the same citizens who supported him strongly at the polls last November.

Here's what Westland Mayor Charles Pickering had to say: "There were over 7,000 rescue runs from our community to the county hospital last year alone. To close the facility would be a disaster."

Here's what Romulus Mayor William Oakley said: "The county hospital is the only complete emergency facility in the area that can be utilized in a crisis situation at Detroit Metro Airport. Our City Council passed a Resolution last night opposing the hospital's closing."

And here's what Inkster Mayor William M. Daniels says: "Hands off, Mr. Lucas."
"Hands off WCGH, Mr. Lucas, they all say."
And we agree.

Mobile Home Park was viable project

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Romulus City Council turned down its Planning Commission's favorable recommendation to approve the Wineman's Investment Company's plans to construct a mobile park in the city. This is a Guest Editorial from Wineman associate and attorney, Richard Komer.)

Despite our request for additional workshop sessions or a special meeting to review our proposal and proposed development and the issues in depth, the City Council of Romulus, after only two meetings, hurriedly defeated our rezoning petition and rejected the Planning Commission's favorable recommendation by a vote of 4-2 with one councilman choosing to abstain.

Obvious confusion and misinformation were indicated by several opposing council members on each key issue as school taxes, revenues to the city, state control over the park and the city's Master Plan.

Despite our well documented and factual 75 page position statement and a series of follow-up letters, together with our oral presentations, arguments offered by several members of the council with preconceived and prejudiced against mobile homes, that we could develop the property as zoned for single family were obviously incorrect due to the fact that not a single sizeable subdivision has been built in Romulus in the last 12 years.

Factual proofs on the issues summarily were disregarded. Further, the council's decision is tantamount to confiscation without compensation which is illegal under our current laws.

With more public support as a matter of record than opposition, the Chamber of Commerce's support and the Planning Commission's recommendation, we question what the majority of the council's motivation was to defeat the rezoning.

We believe that it was personal prejudices rather than citizens' interest.

The real tragedy, however, is for the citizens of Romulus who have experienced a continuing loss of population, shameful lack of adequate shopping facilities, lack of affordable ownership housing, which our development would have changed. And a negative image as a no-growth area remains.

The council's decision continues this pattern and offers no hope of a future for its citizens, and it also signals to other potential developers to avoid Romulus as a no growth area.

What is so desperately needed in the world doesn't change the bottom line that Romulus is stagnating, a fact recognized by certain progressive councilmen, city officials who unfortunately were in the minority.

Because of our large investment in our property, with absolutely no alternatives, we will continue to pursue the development with an ever-increasing body of public support who are demanding change and positive growth.

When a child is missing

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

The picture that Mrs. Esther Smith painted was a frightening one. She had last seen her daughter, a lovely, gregarious then-15-year-old who was a popular student and loved athletics and life, on the evening of Jan. 28.

On the morn of Saturday, Jan. 29, pretty Brenda Janette Sherry didn't reply to her mother's summons to the breakfast table. And when Mrs. Smith called again, there was only silence that greeted her.

Brenda Janette Sherry was not in her bedroom. Not in the house. She was gone.

For 18 long and painful days and nights, the girl Mrs. Smith has raised for 15 years has been among the missing. She reported the disappearance to the Van Buren and Belleville police departments and there now is a state-wide search on to locate the girl.

"We have had our disagreements, like every family has," said Mrs. Smith. "But Brenda has never run away from home. She is an intelligent girl. A B-plus student at the junior high, and I am beginning to fear for her safety."

Mrs. Smith revealed that Brenda Janette Sherry is an adopted child — "but she knew this, so that isn't the reason she isn't here. I have raised other children."

During the 18-day span, Brenda celebrated her 16th birthday. She was born Feb. 2, 1968. She attended North Junior High School in Belleville and was also a cheerleader for the Cougar little league football team.

An attractive, 5-foot-4, 110-pound brunette, Brenda has hazel eyes and a fair complexion. Mrs. Smith says her daughter may have been wearing a pink jacket with green and white trim, and blue jeans when she left.

She said that although the family has relatives in Florida, she doesn't believe Brenda had headed south because "they would have called us."

"All we want is to know that she is safe," Mrs. Smith added, "That's all we want to know. We love her."

The Smiths are offering a $1,000 reward for the safe return of their daughter.

"We're not wealthy people, but we hope that the money will help us find out what happened to her."

If anyone has information about the girl, contact either the Belleville Police Department (699-2033) or the Van Buren Police Department (699-2003) or telephone the Smiths at 697-0435.

Living quarters in a business zoned area?

EDITOR—The Belleville zoning ordinance contains a provision that prohibits the use of living quarters in the business district. A grandfather clause allows previously occupied quarters to continue until the premises are vacated.

Some months ago Mayor Justin Emerson suggested to the council that the ordinance be amended to allow occupancy wherever quarters are up to code.

The council sent the matter to the zoning commission and they published a notice of public hearing. No one appeared at the hearing. Even I missed the notice. Consequently the zoning commission reported back to the council that there was a "no show" and public indifference indicated that the "no occupancy" provision should be retained.

I have long thought that this was a bad provision. Years ago in a conversation with the late Police Chief Mickey McLaughlin I expressed my view. He replied that many times before the ordinance he would receive evening phone calls from people living in the business district reporting a disturbance. He added that the police were able to respond so quickly that nothing major could develop.

When businesses close for the day there are no eyes, ears or signs of occupancy to deter would-be vandals. I have heard this argument summarily dismissed by a member of the zoning commission as worthless.

A number of years ago I worked with the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council in the acquisition of a tract of land west of the village of Stony Creek which became Camp Crawford.

We drilled two wells, built toilets and established a campground for the girls. The camp was bothered by trespassers, vandals and others with intentions unknown. We suggested to the council that a house be built near the road and rented to a family for a price that would include the use of their phone and their eyes and ears to immediately report unauthorized visitors.

The house was built, occupied and the problems stopped.

Schools subjected to high vandalism have installed a mobile home on the property with occupants. This action has proved more effective than alarm systems and the occasional patrol car.

The public hearing may have failed but you can still address your concern to the Council, 6 Main Street, or call the City Hall, 697-9323.

The exporting of pesticides

EDITOR—I am deeply concerned about the policy of the U.S. government which continues to allow the export of certain pesticides to lesser-developed countries, even though we have outlawed the use of these highly dangerous products in the U.S.

This double-standard for ecological and health concerns abroad must be challenged and corrected if we are to protect the environment for all humankind.

I wish to ask for the support of your newspaper, through editorial or news coverage, in focusing attention on this most critical issue.

As a member of the National Audubon Society, I am pleased to tell you that our organization is prepared to provide you with background on this issue. Please write: Communications Office, 950 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.

Mobile Park wasn't in best interest

EDITOR—We would like to personally and publicly thank those members of the Romulus City Council who voted to reject the Planning Commission's recommendation to rezone property on Ecorse Road for a Mobile Home Park.

We are also thankful for the position taken by the school board against this development. We feel that those members showed they care about people, property, taxes and progress of our children's city.

Let us point out, that under the Mobile Home Act the treasurer of the city would collect monthly 50 cents for the city, another 50 cents for the county and two dollars for the schools per trailer-coach so parked.

We hope that all the people of the city realize that all of us would have to dish out money to support the Mobile Home Park by subsidizing additional city-services, police-protection, fire-protection and additional funding for the schools.

The proposed Mobile Home Park involved about 200 acres with one thousand trailer-pads. The park was to be completed in approximately eight years. It would cost the depreciation of the surrounding homes in which location the citizen pay premium taxes on their property, most likely the highest of any residential area in the city.

We understand the petitioner was to put in 1,000 trailers. Actually, he was only proposing to put in pads, where trailers are parked on, so the "beautiful Mobile Home Park" which was discussed was not as believed, the petitioners proposal was a plan on developing 200 acres with the layout in PADS and roads.

As we understand it, the trailer-pads would be for rent.

Maybe now the people of Romulus can understand why we were so opposed to this kind of development in that proposed location.

We feel the same way about sludge or other detrimental development in any part of our city.

Libraries are not expendable

EDITOR—In a city already as devoid of culture and the arts as Westland it is ludicrous for the city fathers to propose cutting off our access to the libraries.

Mayor Charles Pickering stated that "libraries are expendable".

So, may I add, are politicians. Libraries are a necessary source of enlightenment, education and enjoyment for the masses. Ignorance is not bliss.

Agreed, a city this size does not need three libraries. But to have none is absolutely criminal. The Wayne library is well stocked and much more informative than either Livonia or Canton and should definitely be available to us.

With the outrageous tax base here we ought to get something for our money. School taxes are already a waste with the burgeoning Dyer empire on Marquette. The high-priced teachers don't seem to be turning out any better materials than in the lower tax-based sister cities. Now our city fathers too want to give us less for more.

What does Mayor Pickering propose to do with the library funds saved? Why isn't the council, mayor or someone striving to bring in light industry for more revenue to alleviate the homeowner's burdens?

We need an erudite mayor who knows the value of books, magazines, papers and reference materials that his overtaxed constituents simply cannot afford to purchase on their own.

The Wayne-Westland library must be kept open!

Millage issue in V-B schools

EDITOR—If I were a teen-ager in the Van Buren School system and listened to what is going on around me, it would be very easy to feel that the adults in this community just don't care about the educational system or the future of the students now attending schools.

It seems as if many adults have somehow forgot that someone helped to pay for their education and now it is time for them to return the favor.

In many cases the students who you adults do not want to invest in now are the ones you will be relying upon in the future to make this country a safe, prosperous place in which to live.

Less than 25 percent of the parents with school age children in this community bothered to vote in the last millage election. Those of you who did not register or are registered and did not vote should take a moment to reflect on what you are saying to your children by not being concerned enough to vote in an election.

Now, take your kids and sit down with them at the kitchen table and explain to them why you did not bother to vote. Let's think of some of the possible excuses you might use: A. I forgot; B. I was too tired; C. I did not know; D. I did not care; E. It is not important; F. Someone else will do it and G. I did not have time.

Life's little laughs

Today I had my hair done. My white hair was whiter than usual, and all the curls were in place and I was feeling pretty winsome. I picked up my granddaughter, who has just entered her teens and feels pretty big-headed about it, and we cruised down the street right up to a stop light.

I was feeling pretty good, I can tell you, and my granddaughter was making me feel young and giggly and we were having a lot of fun. Until I stopped at that stop light.

I leaned down to change the station on the radio, and right at that moment the light turned green and the fellow in the van behind me let out a blast that almost pushed me right through the intersection.

I came up from checking out the radio, stepped on the gas, and the car died — absolutely dead.

The guy in the van continued blasting his horn, and finally in great frustration he swung around me, sitting there in the middle of the intersection with a car that wouldn't do anything except burp a little, and that fellow leaned out of his window and shouted, "Get back home, Granny!"

Granny, indeed!

I jammed at that gas pedal, and the car reared up and began bucking across the intersection, while my granddaughter kept shouting that the light had changed again and we were going to get hit by cars coming every which way.

But I tamed that car. And then I let my anger and frustration sweep over me, and I reveled in it.

"Darcy," I said to the little teen-ager sitting beside me. "I'm going to catch up to that van, and when we pass him I want you to give him the finger!"

"Grandma," she shouted, shocked right to the gills, I expect. And then she began to giggle.

"You really want me to, Grandma?"

But by that time I had cooled down somewhat, and I was struggling to regain my dignity. I was also ashamed of myself to have let my little granddaughter see how terribly human I am. After all, grandmothers are suppose to be above vulgarity.

"No," I told her. "No, I am going to give you a demonstration of turning the other cheek, the way you are supposed to do if you want to get to heaven without getting your block knocked off."

"Grandma, you're funny," she said, which I took to be a pretty good compliment coming from a little kid who is now a teen-ager. Before a kid gets to be a teenager they always think their mothers and fathers and grandmothers and grandfathers are pretty neat people. But when they get into that teenage era it's pretty hard to get a compliment from them no matter how hard you try.

So I grinned at her, patted my white hair, took hold of that steering wheel and zipped along Michigan Avenue, right past the 45 speed limit.

And I did catch up to the van, because it was pretty wonderful to see that he had gotten behind a really old person, who had glasses and wrinkles and everything, and you could see he was pretty frustrated. His turn indicator was blinking like mad, but I pretended I didn't see it and I passed right by him, but not before I gave him my brightest smile. And he mouthed, "Get back home, Granny!"

Well, so much for turning the other cheek. I nudged the little kid in the seat next to me and I said, "Go for it!" And she did.

And then I smiled — my BIGGEST smile — and went on driving as if I was supposed to be on that street at that particular time.

share activities and resources.

When you can keep the numbers of outlets to a minimum (being sure to cover all areas, of course), it is easier to spread the word (through various "Hotlines", for instance), and it increases the opportunities for "networking".

It stands to reason that one group of, say, five small churches could create a more well-rounded, longer-term program than could five small churches setting up five individual programs.

The biggest complaint I hear from small groups who start up food programs is that there is never enough money coming in and never enough provisions. Their efforts are short-term, at best — and frustrating to those people who want so much to help.

The answer — from those in the know — is to join forces and coordinate efforts.

These are 'foods' frustrations

This week marks the final inclusion, my editor tells me, of the "Hunger Hotlines" listings, so, if you've found it useful, cut it out and save it, and I will pass along any additional information through this column as it comes in to me.

The few weeks that I've been involved in collecting information about the hunger and emergency services programs have been enlightening, to say the least. I hope the information I've passed along has been helpful.

There are some things that should be stressed again and again — until this entire emergency aid problem has been resolved.

• The numbers of people currently in need are overwhelming — even to the people who have administered emergency services programs for years.

• A major source of frustration among emergency services people — and one given near-priority — is food distribution. Last Friday I heard, from County Commissioner Mary Dumas, that a food distribution coordinator had to turn away several agencies with truckloads of food because there was neither the equipment nor the manpower to unload the trucks and stack the food in the warehouse.

So the food is there — its just a question of getting it from Point A to Point B and then into the hands of the people who need it.

(By the way, if you would like to volunteer your services, you can call Karen Brown at Family and Neighborhood Services (782-0600), and she will put you in touch with the people whose programs need help. I understand that more and more calls are coming in from unemployed workers wanting to help.)

• Another source of frustration is coordination—the right hand keeping up with what the left hand is doing. It's essential that food providers keep in touch with one another. There have already been incidences of too much food at one place and not enough at another.

So, churches, schools, communities and private organizations running food pantries, soup kitchens or collection and distribution centers are being asked to give information concerning their programs to the central Eloise Commissary Hotline (721-4470). They, in turn, will pass along the information. They need to know what hours you are open, how many meals or food baskets you prepare, and for whom, and whether you have plenty of food or not enough.

That Hotline number will be publicized soon (if not already) on TV, radio and in the newspapers. People in need will use it to find out where the food sources are in their areas.

If the Hotline has no information (or, worse yet, misinformation) — such as the announcement of food when there is none) concerning your program, they can't accurately spread the word about you.

So call them. Let them know who you are and what you're doing.

In that same light, the food program coordinators are asking that smaller groups, such as small churches and non-profit organizations, join together and

Vasko's Restaurant celebrates grand opening in Belleville

A familiar restaurant site in Belleville has a new look these days.

Vasko's Family Restaurant (formerly Flag's) marks its grand opening this week with a 20 percent discount on regularly-priced meals featured through Friday. Located at 11511 Belleville Road off the I-94 expressway, Vasko's offers 24-hour service under the direction of new owners Vasko Bosnakovski, a native of Greece, and family members Tom Dimovski and Teddy Mojanovski.

These proprietors have revised the menu, adding numerous entrees and sandwiches with the emphasis on casual dining at family budget prices.

For breakfast one can feast on two eggs, potatoes, toast and a choice of bacon, sausage or ham for $1.95. And for the same price a meal of four hot cakes and bacon, sausage or ham also is available.

Among the new selections from the sandwich menu are the reuben, gyro, stacked ham and the Zorba, a Greek sausage specialty. Soup or salad are included in the luncheon specials.

Dinner specials change daily according to the following schedule: liver and onions and chicken soup, Monday; veal cutlet and lentil soup, Tuesday; veal parmesan or spaghetti, Wednesday, and hot roast beef on Thursday. Mashed potatoes, hot vegetable, soup or salad and roll are included for $2.95.

An all-you-can-eat fish dinner for $3.50 is Friday's special offering along with clam chowder, one of the house specialties according to Kitchen Manager Agnes Cook.

Other dinner entrees are beef kabob, New York strip steak, pork tenderloin, ham steak, fried chicken, fried shrimp and ground round steak. Prices range from $3.85 to $6.25.

"We've added a steam table unit that will allow us to continue expanding the menu," Cook explained.

The calorie-conscious diner can choose from the "Dieter's Delight" selections and a children's menu is also available. Carry-out orders can be placed by calling the restaurant at 697-8098.

"If you enjoy your meal with us, tell others, if not, tell us," is the motto of Vasko's owners.

PROGRAMS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

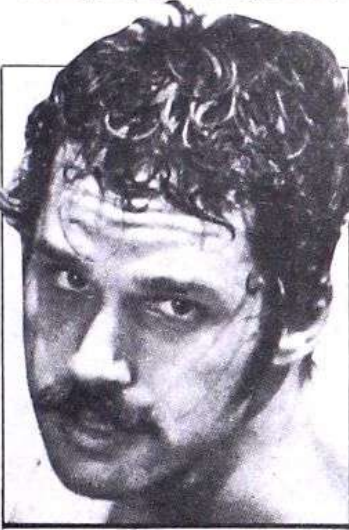

movies

FRI., FEB. 18

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain) FIRST FAMILY. Bob Newhart is the most incompetent President in the history of the world. Gilda Radner is his love-starved daughter, and Madeline Kahn is a glassy-eyed First Lady in an outrageous comedy of White House follies. With Harvey Korman.

SAT., FEB. 19

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain) THE FIGHTER. Gregory Harrison as an out-of-work millhand who enters the risky world of amateur boxing against wife Glynnis O'Connor's wishes. Pat Hingle and Steve Inwood. Punching away at a marriage and life.

SUN., FEB. 20

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain) RAGE OF ANGELS. Part One. Jaclyn Smith, Ken Howard, Armand Assante and Kevin Conway in a romantic drama world of power and glamour, as a beautiful young woman makes a meteoric rise to become a top New York trial attorney. Filmed on location in New York, Acapulco and Paris, and based on a Sidney Sheldon best-seller.

9-12 Midnight ABC (8 Cent./Mount.)

STAR TREK: THE MOTION PICTURE

The long awaited flick continuing the mission of the Starship Enterprise, and manned by the same basic crew, led by William Shatner and Leonard Nimoy, that kept the late '60's tele-series on course for three years.

MON., FEB. 21

9-11PM ABC (8 Central/Mountain)

GRACE KELLY CHERYL LADD

9-11PM NBC (8 Central/Mountain)

RAGE OF ANGELS. Conclusion.

TUES., FEB. 22

8-11PM CBS (7 Central/Mountain)

WILL THERE REALLY BE A MORNING? SUSAN BLAKELY LEE GRANT JOHN HEARD

WILL THERE REALLY BE A MORNING? Drama based on the autobiography of Hollywood star Frances Farmer, here portrayed by Susan Blakely, (as opposed to Jessica Lange, who is being touted for an Oscar for her role in the title of the current theatrical release Frances.) Ms. Farmer's life is traced from her chaotic childhood in Seattle to her emergence as one of the top film personalities of the 1930's. Success is underscored by her deteriorating personal life, an unsuccessful marriage, a tortured love affair and a raging war with the mother who is determined to control her life. Lee Grant, John Heard, Melanie Mayron and the great Royce Dano co-star. Ultimate survival from a season in hell.

SAT., FEB. 26

9-11PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)

ZORRO, THE GAY BLADE GEORGE HAMILTON

legendary swordsman and his little-known twin brother Ramon (who has more than a touch of lavender in his personality), tries for the same sort of zaniness with the masked avenger as he successfully pulled off with Dracula in Love at First Bite a while back. But as has been oft observed in both song and proverb, lightning doesn't strike twice. Also joining in the riding, dueling and loving are Lauren Hutton, the breathy Brenda Vaccaro and Ron Leibman, who shouts alot here.

SUN., FEB. 27

9-11:15PM CBS (8 Central/Mountain)

9 TO 5 JANE FONDA LILY TOMLIN DOLLY PARTON

9 TO 5 Jane Fonda, Lily Tomlin and Dolly Parton as three office workers who dream of getting even with their sexist boss and find that dreams sometimes do come true. Nasty fun.

What's that sound? — 'Four stars for 12 inches'

By STEVE O'LEARY

With the economy being just a little beyond what could be described as "horrible," record companies are finding it infeasible to sign as many new acts as they once did. Many of the companies are finding a way around this by recording 12-inch Extended Play (E.P.) records to test the waters, so to speak. It gives people a chance to hear four or five songs by new artists at a cost of around $4.

Columbia Records, for example, did this with a New York group called Scandal (reviewed here some weeks ago) that is now on the verge of breaking big nationally with the FM hit "Goodbye To You," and they don't even have an album out yet. Anyway, here are some of the more noteworthy of the recent E.P.'s and 12-inch singles.

BERLIN
"Pleasure Victim" (Geffen)
Not just another synth-pop band from L.A., Berlin has a gimmick or two up their uh, sleeves. First and foremost, there's lead singer Terri Nunn. Then, there's sex. Publicists at Geffen Records are quite aware of this, as shown by their neatly pointing out that in the inner sleeve photo Terri is "naked except for a fur."

Musically, Berlin is quite good, and they have a way with a melody. "Tell Me Why" is a winner all the way, and "Masquerade" and "World Of Smiles" show that the band can indeed rock.

The selling point though, is the dance club smash "Sex (I'm A...)" with lyrics like "Slip and slide in wet delight" leading the way, Berlin could go far. If only they don't become the Pia Zadora of rock 'n'roll...

BRUCE SPRINGSTONE
"Live At Bedrock" (Clean Cut)
Imagine, if you will, a Bruce Springsteen concert. It's absolute bedlam as The Boss takes the stage with the E Street Band, one lone spotlight shining down on the figure at stage center as the band starts into a riff that brings screams of recognition from every patron of the arena. The song, of course, is "Meet The Flintstones."

A twisted vision to be sure, if not a real live flashback. But it's true. Of course it isn't Springsteen, but whoever it is has the man's voice and style down pat, and ditto for the band. It's uncanny, really!

The intro to "Meet The Flintstones" is priceless (actually about $3); done to the melody of "Backstreets" and in Bruce's "Growin' Up" style, telling a story to lead into the song with a crash. "I remember comin' home from my job — I had a job flippin' dino-burgers..." You get the idea.

The flip side is "Take Me Out To The Ballgame," and I have no doubts that if Springsteen did this song in the stone-age with an electric band, this is what it would sound like. This is a must; astound your friends and laugh yourself silly. And have a Yabba-dabba-doo time.

ROBERT HAZARD (RCA)
Word has it that Robert Hazard and his band, The Heroes, are the hottest thing to hit Philadelphia in years. They've won over their hometown, opened for the Rolling Stones on their last tour, and were the first band to appear on cable station The USA Network's concert series, "Hot Spots."

There are definite flashes of Springsteen, The Cars, and Robert Gordon in Hazard's musical stance, but it's not a blatant rip-off, more of a roots type of thing.

For some reason, RCA has chosen the worst of the five songs included here as the first single. It's called "Escalator Of Life," and while it isn't that bad, it's not a winner. Better they had picked "(I Just Want To) Hang Around With You (which is a lot of fun)," "Change Reactions," or Hazard's great 80's version of

Dylan's "Blowin' In The Wind."

I think he'll be big. And by the way, pick up on the single anyway, because the flip isn't on the E.P. It's called "Say Yo" and it's at least as good as any of the other songs here.

"Come On Eileen" (Mercury)
This isn't really an E.P., but rather a 12-inch single, but it serves a definite purpose. No two ways about it, "Come on Eileen" is one of the catchiest tunes of the year (Thank you MTV). Unfortunately, "Too-Rye-Ay," the LP it came from, is pretty much the dog, so buy the 12-inch, and on the flip side you even get a great version of the classic "The Sound of Philadelphia" (T.S.O.P.).

Fundraiser

Welding ideas and projects together have helped Belleville High students come up with a unique fundraiser. They welded sculpture pieces that depicted a log on saw horses with a detailed double blade ax partially imbedded into the log and sold them to raise monies for welding jackets. Above, Ron Webb receives some tips from instructor Jack Blackhall.

Welding project pays off for students

The senior welding class at Belleville High School recently completed a rather unique fund raising project.

The students decided to hold a fundraiser that would enable them to buy welding jackets. They used only the skills that had been attained while attending the welding class. Their final decision was to design and make a metal sculpture resembling a log on saw horses with a detailed double blade ax partially embedded into the log.

The decision was based on the alternative energy theme.

The project was handled from beginning to end by the students with occasional assistance from their teacher. The students encountered many problems with the planning and work flow involving a large number of people.

Students had first hand experience of what goes on behind the scenes when running a small business. Many different types of metal working, layout and assembly skills were used on the project. A total of 30 sculptures were produced.

The welding instructor is Jack Blackhall.

Cherry Hill tops WW swim & dive field

First year coach breaks 21-year title drought

It took a woman to present Cherry Hill with its first Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Championship.

Debbie Karabee, who moved up to the head coaching job after Wayne Beerbower departed from Cherry Hill, guided her Spartans to an impressive victory over a short-tened field of four teams at the 21st annual WW Invitational.

"It's great to win," said Coach Karabee after the grueling 2-day competitions. "This is one invitational that we have never won but always wanted to win."

The invitational has been divided into two separate sections. The first section was staged and won last week by Wayne Memorial.

On Saturday, Cherry Hill captured six first places and grabbed 338 points to defeat runner-up Plymouth Salem for top honors. Belleville was third and Dearborn Heights Crestwood finished fourth. The three Livonia schools —

Churchill, Franklin and Stevenson — were forced to cancel their appearances because of a Michigan High School Athletic Association rules that prohibits teams to compete in more than the MHSAS's allowed meets. The invitational would have put the three teams over the top.

However, Cherry Hill proved it had enough talent to claim the title. The Spartans received a superb performance from Rod Wohlfeil, who captured two individual events, and also competed on the winning freestyle relay team.

Mark Bahn also was a double winner for the champs, while Bob Miller and the relay team rounded out the gold medalists for Cherry Hill.

Wohlfeil was clocked in 22 seconds flat for the 50-yard freestyle and turned in the winning time of 49.1 for the 100-yard freestyle. Bahn was clocked in 2:10.4 in winning the 200-yard individual medley and had the best effort for the 100-yard breaststroke (1:06.0).

After 22 years

Belleville cagers win half of crown

With half of the league title in their pockets, Belleville and Coach Tom Niemi have set their sights on accomplishing what no other Tiger cage squad has accomplished in over two decades — capture a league basketball championship outright.

Belleville sealed half of what probably will become the final Suburban 8 Conference basketball title last week by coming from behind to nip the then league co-leader, Trenton, 66-61. The Tigers must now defeat Dearborn to own the entire title.

"The kids played championship caliber basketball against Trenton," noted Coach Niemi who went on to praise Trenton for its exceptional fine play. "It was what I like to call a 'fan's game' because there was a lot of action and suspense."

"Obviously, we're happy that we won it. The victory gave us at least a tie for the conference championship, and if we beat Dearborn we'll have it outright."

Mike Mellon, who has been the impetus behind the Tiger success this season, and Bob Edwards, who came off the bench and pumped in 10 of his 12 points in the final period, helped turned the tide against Trenton.

Trenton gained the upper hand 13-10 after the first eight minutes of action and neither team could build up a lead by more than five points until the final whistle. Although Belleville outscored their visitors 18-17 in the second period, they still trailed 30-28 at the intermission.

Using his bench to the best possible advantage, Niemi inserted Bobby Griffin into one of the guard posts and Griffin responded with "an excellent all-around performance", the coach said.

Also getting the job done were Jerome Roberson and Rodney Palmer, who rallied the Tigers to a 43-41 advantage after three periods. Key free throws by Keith Vawters who sank the last two, and a three-point play by Edwards doomed Trenton at the end.

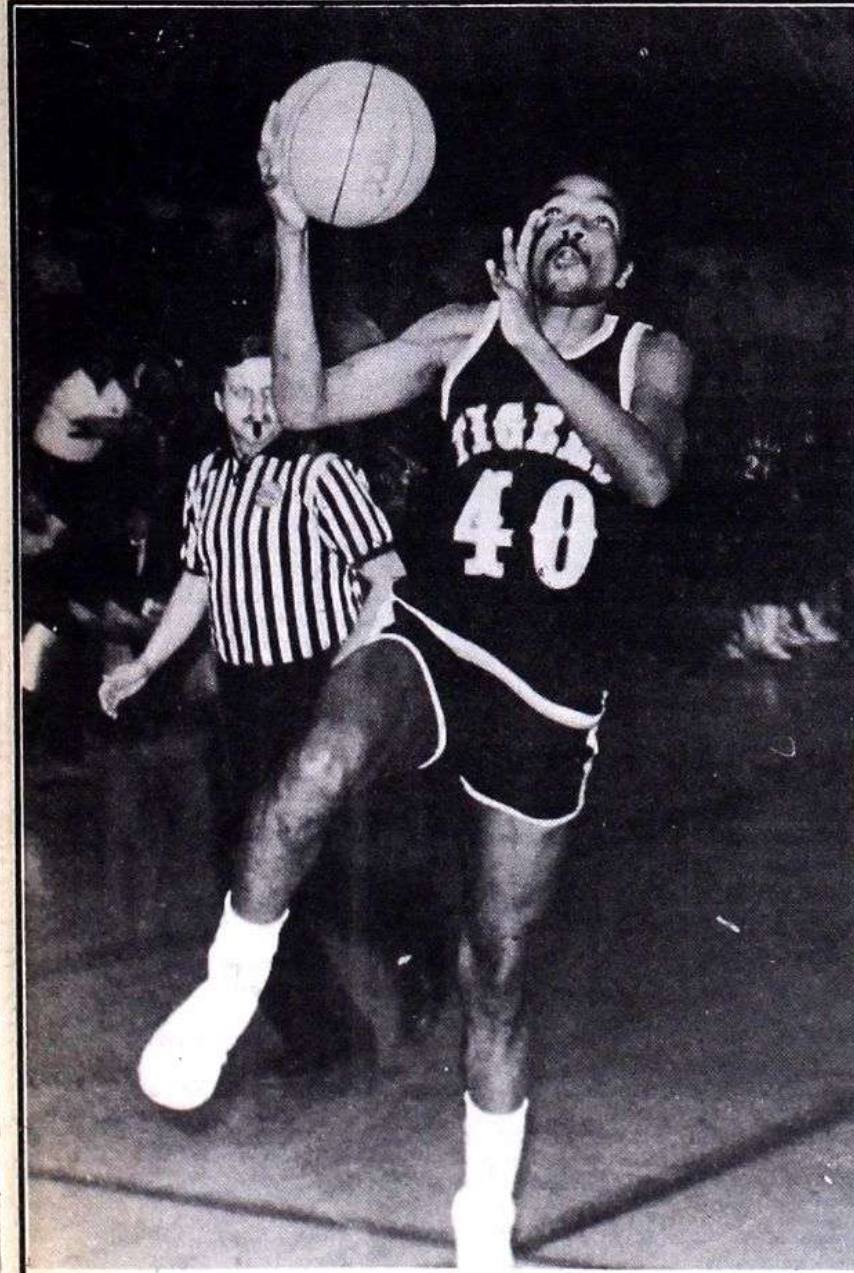

Belleville received 22 points from Mellon, the game's individual high scorer. Edwards finished with 12.

Earlier in the week Fordson outscored the Tigers 15-8 and 19-14 in the final two quarters and won a 62-55 nonconference game from Belleville. The Trenton victory and the Fordson setback left the local cagers with a 11-4 over-all record and a 4-1 conference mark.

Mellon again scored 22 points, but the Tigers this time received double figures from Rodney Palmer and Steve Thornsberry who had 13 and 12 points respectively.

All alone

Driving unmolested for any easy layup is Belleville's Bob Edwards who came off the bench and tossed in 10 of his 12 points in the fourth quarter to lead the Tigers past Trenton and to the team's first conference championship in more than two decades.

A first for Spartan swimmers

Although they have won several Tri-River Conference swimming championships in the past, the Spartans may now boast that they are the proud owners of the coveted Western Wayne title. With first year coach Debbie Karabee (at right) to guide them, Cherry Hill managed to hold off a strong Plymouth Salem squad Saturday to capture the first place trophy in competitions staged Saturday at the Inkster-based high school's facility. Members of the championship team and the coaching staff pose after the invitational meet which drew one of the largest crowds in recent years.

For 15th consecutive years

Glenn rules N-W mat world

Westland John Glenn apparently was waiting until the Northwest Suburban Conference wrestling championships "to put it all together."

Claiming six of the 13 individual weight class championships and a total of 220½ points, the Rockets retained for the 15th consecutive year the conference title. They also accomplished the unprecedented feat in a record-shattering fashion. Glenn has held the league title 16 of the last 17 years.

"For the past several weeks we have been troubled by illness and injuries," said Glenn coach Tom Buchalew. "Saturday, we put it all together. The result was a championship performance by one of the largest margins in the history of our league."

"And 12 of our wrestlers placed and six were champions. I couldn't be happier or more proud of our team," Buchalew added.

Glenn gold medals were awarded to Rick Gillies (98), Tom Gibson (105), Dan Gibson (112), Robb Paciocco (145), Don Forchione (155), and Tom Aloisi (198).

The Westlanders are now preparing for the tough Class A District Championships scheduled for Saturday at Temperance Bedford. In a field of more than 20 teams, the Rockets will find in the field none other than the defending state champ, Bedford, ranked No. 2 this year, Detroit Catholic Central, ranked No. 3. (Glenn is the No. 5, while neighboring Wayne has the No. 6 berth in the state).

Hazel Park has the coveted No. 1 ranking.

"Needless to say, this is the toughest district in the state and the kids will have to place among the top four in their weight class to qualify for the regionals."

The regionals will be held a week from Saturday at Trenton.

Wayne wrestlers are league champs

Wayne Memorial, the defending champ, captured what is the final Great Lakes 8 Conference wrestling championship.

Coach Don Haney's Zebras picked up nine out of a possible 13 gold medals en route to 223½ points and the conference title. Wayne piled up 223½ points, while Monroe was runner-up with 160 and Lincoln Park was third with 111½ points, followed by Wyandotte (67) and Fordson (50).

The once eight-team league has dwindled to five and the present members have committed themselves to other conferences next year.

Wayne had championship performances from Dave Davis (98), T.J. Harris (105), Dave West (112), Jeff Pangman (119), Jim Ertman (138), Dan Matauch (126), Joe Calaianne (132), Don Lynn (155), Doug Shepard (198).

The Zebras also boasted two bronze medalists in Tim Mulroy (167) and Tony Persall, a heavyweight.

Coach Haney attributed the victory to his team's all-around effort.

"We won it because everyone on the team contributed," Haney said, "and that's the way championships are won."

Haney and his charges will travel to Bedford Temperance on Saturday to compete in the Class A District Tournament. Wrestlers must finish among the top four in their respective weight classes to qualify for the following week's regional tournament to be staged at Trenton.

With the No. 2 and No. 3 state ranked teams in the district, as well as Westland John Glenn, which is ranked No. 5, the districts at Temperance is considered one of the toughest — if not the toughest — in the state.

Volleyball registration deadline set

Registration is being accepted for a co-ed volleyball spring league in Westland that will compete Thursday evening beginning March 3 until April 28 at the Melvin G. Bailey Recreation Center, 36651 Ford Road.

The teams will be split into two divisions - A and B — and there is a 12 team limitation for each division. A $60 registration fee will be required.

Recreation officials said that the deadline to enter is Feb. 27. For further information telephone Deborah Block at 722-7620.

They're No. 1

Lynne Nibert, Paula Cardin, Joan Jackson, Coach Doris Busuito, Missey Prevo, Kris Poteau, Noreen Hamlin, Cindy Burnie and Laura Hayes.

Wayne captures Edsel Ford volleyball Invitational title

In the eyes of the 12 teams that gathered at Edsel Ford over the weekend, Wayne Memorial is still the No. 1 team in volleyball in Michigan.

Coach Doris Busuito's girls bounced back from their first loss of the 1982-83 campaign last weekend to capture the T-Bird Invitational on Saturday, pushing their enviable record to 31-1 won-lost on the year. The Zebras met and defeated Dearborn in the finals, riding sets of 15-7 and 15-11 to the championship. Down by 11-3 in the second game, Busuito's spikers refused to quit and rallied to win.

Mary Batterson came off the bench with the score 14-11 and secured an ace for the final point and the match.

"This team has great stamina," Coach Busuito said, "and it showed when they fell behind against the top teams and then came back to win."

Wayne launched its assault on the title with a 15-3, 15-6 victory over Andover, then split with Farmington, losing the first match 15-11, then coming back to win 15-6. In the playoffs, the Zebras disposed of Rochester 15-2 and 15-5, then took care of Livonia Stevenson 15-10 and 15-9 before going on to defeat Dearborn for the championship.

Thurston rallies past Glenn to clinch N-W cage crown

Shades of 1968...

Remember the 'Year of the Tigers,' and how they came from behind 40 times, 30 of them on last turn at bat?

Last Friday night, the Rockets of Westland John Glenn were victims of a similar rally by the Eagles of Redford Thurston as the latter claimed their first Northwest Suburban League championship in many years, 49-45.

It also kept their hopes alive for an unbeaten league season, something that has not happened since 1978-79 when Glenn performed that feat.

But Thurston had to overcome a stubborn and proud Rocket squad that just would not concede the league title. Said Coach Dan Henry of his team, "We never give up. We never get blown out. We either win or go down swinging."

Thurston found that out twice this season.

The first time, Glenn forged an 11-point lead in the fourth quarter only to have Thurston come from behind to win in overtime and they found out on this night, also. The Eagles have never had a lot to cheer about in recent years and this is a team on a roll. They have now won 12 out of 13 games this season and look like they are not about to be stopped.

Henry had praise of his opposition. "Thurston is the best team in the league. They proved that. They play hard every quarter."

The Rockets have faced adversity all season and have beaten back nearly every challenge to come their way. On Friday night, they faced one of their toughest challenges — playing without their big man, Paul Grazulis. Grazulis, who has been a mainstay of the Rockets all season, was not even present at the game due to a serious foot injury.

The injury to Grazulis forced coach Henry to change his line-up slightly, inserting 6-2 senior swingman Steve Jaskolski. And what a move it was. Jaskolski responded with his career-best 11 points and a passel of rebounds. "Steve was asked to do the impossible. He did a super job," Henry said.

Thurston Coach Gary Fraylick, a strong candidate for Metro West Coach of the Year, thought he had his team primed for this one. He wanted them to end the league race right here on Glenn's floor.

But the Eagles came out a little sluggish and soon found themselves down 4-0 on baskets by the Rockets' Mike Baydarian and Todd Jennings. Thurston even trailed 10-4 in the first quarter as all five starters scored. The first quarter ended, 13-8, with the Rockets on top.

The Thurston fans were on their feet in the second quarter as their team began to make a move on Glenn. Jim Weiss, who has been a "money man" for the Eagles all season, and Steve Smith, hit four free throws and kept the Eagles close at halftime, 21-18.

Glenn left the floor at halftime to a standing ovation from their fans, who according to Henry, "are important to us. We can't do it alone. I'm proud of our fans."

But so is Fraylick of the Eagle fans. And they rocked the place in the third quarter when their team came storming back to outscore Glenn, 17-10, and take a 35-31 lead. Weiss, who "can do it all," scored 10 points and George Sibel, a certain

All-League choice, added 5 points including a shot at the buzzer that gave them a four-point cushion and impetus for their favorite quarter. But the Rockets apparently don't know the meaning of the word "quit."

Jaskolski hit four points and Gill contributed four as they refused to concede. They came back to tie and even lead in the fourth quarter. Baydarian hit two more jumpers from outside and Jaskolski hit four points as they kept the Rockets even with Thurston. Jack Walker hit two clutch free throws with 2:09 left to tie the game for the final time.

Then, Sibel took over and performed the "Tiger rally" for the Eagles. With 50 seconds left, he hit a shot off the glass to give Thurston the lead for good. With 10 seconds to go, he added an insurance tally and the Eagles had their league championship.

But the Rockets have been on this path before and have rebounded from adversity.

Henry said: "The third season starts next week with the final three games of the season and then the districts. We will be ready for all challenges and intend to come out of this season winners."

The Rockets will take their 12-5 record and take a two-week sabbatical as they prepare for their next opponent, Franklin, on Feb. 25.

"They will be ready for us," said Henry. "Especially after the first game this season. They would very much like to beat us. But we'll be ready for them."

The Junior Varsity Rockets continued their fine season with their sixth in a row, 61-48, over Thurston as Brad Martin scored 14 points and Scott Winfrey scored 8.

'Mugger' rolls 300

By JIM WRUBLEWSKI

Anytime you hear of a mugging taking place a chill runs through you and then you start wondering about the victim.

Well, it is my pleasure to report that one took place at Westland Bowl Friday evening that may send a shiver up your spine, but I can assure you that the "victims" deserved what they received.

Frank (Mugger) Mugerichian did a job on the pins to record his first 300 game, and it had quite a few people excited.

Mugger's action took place during the first game of the Westland Mixed Classic, and it was an excellent example of the benefits of having that so called stuff on the ball. Mugger had pins flying all over the pin deck, knocking down the stray pins that didn't have the sense to fall quickly enough.

Along with his perfect game, Frank had a 236 for a 710 series.

Other action at Westland Bowl included Don Benney progressively improving with games of 249-259-267 for 775; Rick Farr was just the opposite when he went downhill on 268-257-246 and 771; Terry Smith had 259-224-257 for 740; Ed Henrick hit 244-252-234 and 730; Jerry Couc Jr. had 699, and John Hurley a 681.

A reminder for the young people: don't forget to check with your league officers about entering the qualifying rounds of the Coca Cola Scholarship Tournament being held for the next couple of weeks. You just might be lucky enough to get some help on that college education in your future.

The youngsters at Wayne Bowl featured 134 average Ron Paddock hitting 207; 141 average Tony Wood shooting a 205 game; Mike Tackett, at a 109 average, with a 181 game and 412 series; and Chris Wooley, currently carrying a 108 average shooting a 174 game.

Regular scoring there included Len Hobson going 100 pins over average on a 278 game; Tom Endreszel just missing that triplicate on games of 211-211-212 for a 634; Rich Renscock had a 232 for 625; Ralph Johnson with a 622; Rosnell McMillion with a 244 for 606; and Ralph Battle with 228 and 602.

School teacher, Nancy Butterfield, rolling at Fiesta Lanes, just might start giving bowling instructions after hitting that 251 game she had recently and Charlie Stailey, bowling in the weekly No Tap (where 9 pins on the first ball is recorded as a strike) tournament had some fun when he had games of 300 and 297. Although they are not award winning scores they are surely prize winners.

Lodge Lanes action was paced by Jerry Willmon hitting 249 and 238 on his way to a 656 series; Don Orr had a 241 game; and mystery lady R. Morris, carrying a 137 average, had a 225 game to finish this weeks scoring highlights.

RNs 8 West Rehabilitation/ Spinal Cord Injury Unit

The University of Michigan Hospitals has increased beds and expanded its treatment services for patients requiring rehabilitation.

The General Rehabilitation component of the unit will treat patients who require intensive rehabilitation as a result of cerebro-vascular accident, traumatic brain injury, neuromuscular disorders and chronic pain syndromes. The Spinal Cord Injury component will treat patients with both the acute and rehabilitation phases of recovery. In addition to the physical care of patients, nurses concentrate on education and emotional support of patients and families.

8 West has an active commitment to a joint practice philosophy which enhances the comprehensive treatment of patients and creates a satisfying work environment. Best of all, however, nurses who work on 8 West have the opportunity to see the result of their professional efforts in the progress of their patients.

SELLING VS. SELLING!

The case before the court is:

Whether or not it is a crime to slash an advertising budget during an economic downturn.

NO

Attorney for the advertiser points to the potential injury to the bottom line as a clear-cut motive to reduce ad expenditures. He reasons that budgets must always relate to sales and pleads self defense rather than temporary insanity for using the knife.

YES

Defense attorney cites previous case of ad slashing and offers as exhibits A,B,C,D post mortems of retailers who lost their confidence in their ability to motivate consumers and move merchandise.
